

The Hospitality Committee for United Nations Delegations invites you to join us for a Virtual Harlem Audubon Murals Tour
Thursday, August 6, 2020
10:30 A.M.

Licensed New York City tour guide Leigh Hallingby will lead us on a tour of the Audubon Mural Project, an exciting effort to create murals of over 300 North American birds in the Upper Manhattan neighborhoods of Hamilton Heights and Washington Heights, which include part of the northern area of Harlem. Since all of the birds painted are threatened by climate change, the Project is designed not only to display the beauty of the birds, but also to make us aware of the challenges that they face.

Please email the Hospitality Committee at hcund@un.org to register.
